Elder R. D. Gold will preach at the residence of Lynn Adams, Esq., to-day at 11 a. m.

The recently organized colored military company in Tarboro have applied to the Adjutant General for arms.

Nothing doing at the Police Court yesterday. The currency stringency tends towards the promotion of good morals.

A new Lodge of Odd Fellows will be organized in Columbia, Tyrrell county, on next Saturday. So says Grand Master Bagley.

Marshall Parks, Esq., has invited Gov. Caldwell to take a trip through the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal, from Norfolk to Newbern.

Maj. W. H. Bagley, Grand Master of the I. O. O. F., of this State, is daily receiving contributions from the various Lodges in the State in aid of the Memphis sufferers.

Letters are now held in the post-office of this city, for lack of postage, addressed to the following parties:

Miss Virginia Ward, Warrenton, N. C.; J. A. Byrne, Wilmington, N. C.; Dr. H. Worthington, Kittrells, N. C.

RAFFLE.—On Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, at the saloon of Messrs. Bashford & Harrison, Hargett street, there will be a raffle for a finely finished breech-loading gun, valued at $75. Go up and get your chances.

A RAPIST ARRESTED.—Intelligence was yesterday received at the Executive office of the arrest, in Northampton county, of Adam Knight, who is indicted for the horrid crime of rape. The villain is now in jail at Jackson. A reward of $200 was offered by the Governor for his arrest, and will be paid to the captors of the criminal.

RALEIGH AND SHREVEPORT.—Messrs. Pike, Brother & Co., Bankers, New Orleans, (through whose house the telegraph company arranges for the payment of sums collected for the relief of the Shreveport sufferers,) have transmitted to Seaton Gales Lodge of Odd Fellows, of this city, the acknowledgement, by R. L. Robertson, Treasurer Howard Association, New Orleans, by hands of D. Flannery, of the receipt of $25, ordered paid on the wires last week.

SIDE-WALKS.—A couple of hours of rain is sufficient to render the side-walks on many of our streets nearly impassable. Such a state of affairs is a disgrace, and would even shame the authorities of a fourth-rate village. We claim to be a prosperous, thriving city, and yet our streets and side-walks, during a greater part of the winter, are very little better than quagmires. It is the duty of the Board of City Commissioners to look after these matters, and we are sorry that truth compels us to say that this duty is neglected in the most shameful manner.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—Our thanks are due for a complimentary card of admission into the 11th Annual Fair of the Cumberland Agricultural Society, to be held in Fayetteville the 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th of next month. We are informed that great preparations are being made to ensure success, and that over $1,000 in premiums are offered. Rev. R. S. Moran, of Wilmington, an eloquent orator and finished scholar, will deliver the Annual Address on the 13th and the day following the Grand Tournament takes place. We trust the Fair will prove as great a success as our Cumberland friends would have it.

A HIDDEN VESSEL OF WRATH.—It is said, with how much truth we know not, that there is a can or a glass jar of nitro-glycerine, or some other explosive compound, buried in the south-west corner of the Capitol Square, near the old Arsenal, which has been there for many years, having been secreted there prior to the surrender, and the place of its concealment having been lost. No one dares to dig for it, as the blow of a pick might send the enterprising digger to roost on the Presbyterian Church steeple. And so it will sleep until a happy chance or some dreadful accident shall reveal its resting place.

GRANVILLE COURT.

Monday morning we left the city of Raleigh, (upon a Sunday School excursion pic-nic we would say, the beautiful "City of Oaks,") in company with about fifteen jolly companions bound for Oxford, the county seat of Granville county, to attend the Fall term of the county Superior Court. The usual rate of speed on the Raleigh and Gaston railroad (a slight improvement on Weston's walking time around the Fair Ground race track) brought us to Henderson where the party disembarked. Being nigh unto 1 o'clock, a working man's dinner hour, we repaired to the hospitable roof of Simon Kittrell, where no traveller ever failed to receive a welcome that didn't cheer up the inmost part of his or her hungry stomach, and all enjoyed the luxury of a good dinner—just such a dinner as "mine hostess" of the Kittrell House always gets up, and just such a meal that makes this house famous as one of the best eating houses on the Raleigh and Gaston railroad.

Dinner finished, we got aboard the elegant carriage of Capt. Spencer's line, and came over the worst twelve miles of road in North Carolina to Oxford, but the vehicle was strong, the horses willing, Spencer agreeable and the trip was made as pleasantly and expeditiously as circumstances would admit.

Arrived in Oxford and registered at the "Osborn House" in time for supper. We eat without grumbling; we had no cause for grumbling. Caleb Osborn, a chip of the old block, keeps a good house, and gave us a good square meal and a very comfortable room. Caleb was a little crowded, however, and thribbled us in a room with an insurance agent and a Norfolk cotton drummer, but we forgive him. The agent and drummer thought it was hard, hard luck when Caleb told them he had no where else to put that NEWS man, but we were ushered in, and we "made up our minds to take things as they came." An hour was spent in conversation around the hearth-stone by the discontented trio, when each retired to his respective pillow. We did not sleep well; bad dreams afflicted us; our brain was much puzzled to know what the nonforfeiting plan had to do with a liberal advance on consignments at $7 a year for the daily, and we would wake up to find it was all a dream. Finally we dreamed that our life was insured in the Ætna for $5000, and a draft on W. H. Morriss & Co., of Norfolk, had paid the policy. Under this pleasant delusion we passed to unconsciousness, and all was still till the sound of the breakfast bell.

Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the Courthouse bell announced the OPENING OF THE COURT.

We entered the bar just in time to witness the drawing of the jury. A small negro boy mounted on a candle box, pulling bits of paper from the Sheriff's hat, is the process by which a jury is drawn in Granville. In Warren, Johnston, Chatham, Guilford, Rockingham, Caswell and Person, little white boys manipulate the paper bits, and as this was a novel proceeding to us we took occasion to remark thereon. A Granville county friend at our elbow gave us a satisfactory explanation, viz: that it was next to the last Court before the summer election. The little nigger, however, went through the motion with much more credit to himself and the county than Cuffy Mayo in the Legislature, and the jury was drawn and sworn. Next came which he prefaced with a few remarks on the organism of the eye and its power when in contact with the front of an opposite person. He desired that the jury should rise and seat themselves on the rounds of the benches fronting him, that he might deliver his charge with his eye on their front, for, says he, "the voluntary forces of man are in front, and the involuntary forces behind." Excusing himself for not being present to open Court on Monday, he proceeded with his usual congratulatory remarks that the Jury were still above ground, and informed them that he had nothing new to offer; that the laws were old; all knew what they were, and the first and most important consideration was a self-examination; "know, thyself" was His first and great commandment, and His second was like unto it. Examine thyself and see if you are prepared to discharge the high and honorable duties you owe to yourselves and your country.

Here the Judge 'variated' into one of those well-known oratorical flights, skipping from the common law to the Mosaical, thence to the Levitical and back to the Statute law with such rapidity that this reporter couldn't keep up. Levi Blankenship, a hardened old sinner, that sat near us said, he reminded him of a goose walking on hot bricks. The Judge finally quit his soaring aloft and lit on the road. He told the jury of the advanced age we are now living in, and the necessity of our keeping pace therewith, which never could be done as long as we neglected our highways. The roads of North Carolina he said were notoriously the worst in the world, and the Grand Jury were the only source of remedy for this great and flagrant evil. The present law made it incumbent on every man to work the road, and no longer could any excuse be offered delinquent parties, if sued, say, you can't "get blood out of a turnip," for there is a squeezing process in the present law which makes the failure to work the roads a misdemeanor. Here His Honor flew the track again, and from the dirt roads of Granville got aboard the great Pacific railroad; said something about the iron band connecting the Atlantic and Pacific; talked muchly of mechanics, arts, progress of the age, etc., etc., during which time we went with Blankenship across the street to see a man, and returned just in time to catch him on the fence. He said, "I do not like the present fence law, but must enforce it. The law as it is, according to one of our Superior Court Judges, requires a fence to be horse high, pig tight and bull strong, but this I borrow. The common law says a fence must be five feet high and nothing is said of the pig tight or bull strong. This law was handed down to us when the country was thinly settled, etc., etc., and has never been altered." While he thought that the fence law should be so changed as to require a man to fence his stock and let out his farm instead of keeping up a fence around probably hundreds of acres to keep out a ticky, $2.75 cow, yet a promptness on the part of the jury in enforcing the law is necessary to open the eyes of the people to the importance of changing the defective law.

With a few other slight variations, the Judge concluded his charge and the jury retired.

are comparatively light for Granville county, and it is thought the business of the Court will be completed this week. The State docket is subdivided as follows; Criminal, principally for light offences, 45 cases; bastardy, 5 cases; Sci Fa's, 12; warrants returned by Justices, 21.

On the civil trial docket there are 83 cases; 13 on the appearance docket and 20 on the transfer docket.

Besides the able and talented bar of Oxford, we notice in attendance upon the Court Gen. W. R. Cox, L. C. Edwards, Attorney General Hargrove and Chas. M. Busbee, Esq., of Wake; Capt Jos. Davis and C. M. Cook, of Franklin, and Col. G. Badger Harris, of Henderson.

We attended Tuesday a concert given by the teachers and pupils of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, which we will write up at a more convenient season, with many more interesting Oxford items and further Court proceedings.

THE HILLSBORO RECORDER ON THE LATE STATE FAIR.—Brother Cameron thus compliments the late State Fair and the general management of the same:

"It would be simply impossible in the limited space of a weekly paper to enter into a detailed description of the late great Fair. The endless display of articles on exhibition, and the overwhelming crowd prevent alike special mention, and accurate observation.

"For the first time in the history of the State Fair, the interest of the whole State was thoroughly aroused, and for the first time a determination to make it a worthy Exposition of the resources, the energy, the industry, the taste and the genius of the State. No one will deny for a second that on all these points a most gratifying and triumphant demonstration was made. There was nothing here that North Carolina had reason to be ashamed of, nothing that did not fully sustain the claim made by a portion of the Press, that in variety of resources, and in superiority of productions North Carolina was second to no State in the Union. And it was especially gratifying to observe the large number of intelligent and practical men from the Northern States, to witness the truth of the assertions made, and the fact that the claims were not empty braggadocio. The proofs were patent and could not be gainsayed.

"There is, there can be, but one opinion about the Fair. It was a grand success in all its parts; in the number and size of the various buildings, in their internal arrangements, in the completeness of the preparations for the reception and display or machinery, in the accommodation for stock, in the excellence of the race track, all was complete. Evidently the very best judgment and admirable executive ability were exercised in all that appertained to success. And the arrangements for the preservation of order were so complete, and so much solicitude for the comfort, and protection of the vast throng so perfect, that there was never at any time the slightest confusion, or the least derangement in the complicated programme."

"In regard to the number of visitors, there will of course be a difference of opinion. On Thursday there must have been at least fifteen thousand persons on the ground. This can hardly be an exaggeration, and many think under the mark, and when the vast capacity of the Grand Stand, crowded to its utmost capacity, and calculated to seat six thousand people, the dense throng in Floral Hall, the vast crowds in the grounds, along the race course, gathered about Machinery Hall, and around the side shows, refreshment stands and other places, it is evident that a larger number was gathered than ever assembled in Raleigh, except possibly on the birthday of Henry Clay in April, 1844."

* * * * * *

"In connection with the Fair, it is an act of justice to refer to the admirable arrangements of the Rail Road companies, to whom the immense number of visitors owe their facility in reaching the Fair Grounds. To President Hawkins and Supt. Andrews, a very large share of this tribute is due, since upon them fell the burden of running trains to and from the grounds every half hour, which they did with the most perfect regularity, and without a solitary accident. And the authorities of the North Carolina road, made every effort, and that successfully, to transport the countless numbers that fell to their care. Not a single instance of injury was sustained, and not a train was out of time, though some of them carried eight hundred passengers."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.—At a meeting of the State Agricultural Society, held on Wednesday night, the 15th inst., the following resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Gen. D. M. Barringer were adopted:

WHEREAS, Amid the uncertainties of this life we are called often to mourn the death of many valued citizens, our heartfelt sorrow on such occasions finds utterance in the repetition of those acts of manly patriotism, unostentatious charity and noble unselfishness, which have been the crowning virtues of our friend, while living, moving, acting and thinking. The civilization of a people may well be weighed by their virtuous respect and veneration for their dead. And fortunate for us that North Carolina reared, nurtured and honored DANIEL MOREAU BARRINGER, whose death we now deplore, whose virtues we can proudly point to and say such was our departed brother-member. Therefore,

Resolved, That as members of the State Agricultural Society, we deplore the death of one of its most useful members, one whose voice was ever heard on the side of right and in the interest of his beloved nother North Carolina, whether in the councils of the nation, or the hustings, in her Courts of Justice, or in deliberative bodies of her wisest and best.

Her material prosperity, her advancement in all that tends to greatness, and her honor, always held the warmest place in his heart. Like the devoted son, he was ever ready to advance the one and to shield the other. Manly where nerve was required, soft and loving as woman, as the demands of affection urged; he was indeed one of her jewels.

Resolved, That we tender to the family of the deceased our warmest sympathy in the hour of their grief and earnest compassion at this great loss.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be borne to the family by a Committee appointed by the President, and that they be spread upon the minutes of the Association.

A. A. MCKOY,
JNO. S. DANCY,
J. M. WORTH.

In introducing these resolutions, Col. McKoy, Chairman of the Committee, made the following remarks:

Your Committee has instructed me to report the resolutions just read. I cannot permit the question to be taken without the utterance of a few thoughts which will ever, on occasions like this, crowd thick and fast upon the brain. From the depths of the heart will swell up expressions of affection when death removes one of those genial spirits whose life throws around the man an halo of light and love. Oft in the light of the eye is mirrowed the kindlier feelings of the heart, and by its aid we look down into the affections and there behold that great heartedness of man's best nature which ever wakes a responsive chord in ours, and thus affection toward its possessor is ever drawn out in that tender sympathy which makes heart cling to heart and makes him all our friends. Thus it was with him whose death we now deplore. The stoic may call this weakness. The selfish may hold this light and trifling. Yet the warm hearted, the noble, the generous, the chivalric and the christian will tell you this is the sum of man's existence, this is the highest ambition of a pure nature, this is the earthly boon of the christian hope. Such was our departed friend, such were the loving qualities of his nature, and such is the idol of his remembrance set up in our affections by his long life of usefulness and love. He was ever foremost when duty called, his gifts of mind and heart made him, where known, the instrument for the accomplishment of work from which many a sturdier nature received. His well balanced mind kept him from over zeal on the one hand, while it moved him with that determination which made fortune bend to his will and crown him with a success which seemed never intended for him. He was no laggard when work was to be done. Energy and will were with him virtues by which success was oft attained. Like the labor of his hands and head, his ample means were at the command of friends and country. So eminent was he in this that his memory well deserves to be enshrined with the devoted, the generous and the just. I speak with the affection of one who knew him well. His companionship was indeed to me a pleasure, his advice invaluable—his presence ever grateful, and his memory ever to be revered.

"Calm be his rest in his cold dwelling place. Sweet be the repose of his grave and bright his resurrection."

As one by one they pass away, the mind is lost in thought as to our future, and the question will present itself who will now be the "guardians of our night," who will now ward off the blow, shelter the weak, comfort and encourage those able to battle and again rebuild the State. Our recollections of this last departed one are not of one enfeebled by sickness, furrowed with care, but of a strong man in the midst of his usefulness whose gray hairs had not brought corresponding waste of energy, but he may well be said to have fallen, "as falls the summer tree, aged yet in the bloom of its beauty, ere the breath of autumn had seared a leaf that adorned it."

FARE OVER THE R. & G. R. R. TO WELDON FAIR.—The fare over the Raleigh & Gaston Road to the Weldon Fair, commencing on the 28th inst., will be 1½ cents per mile each way or 3 cents the round trip, making $3 from Raleigh to the Fair and return, admission ticket added, and at proportionate rates the whole line. We are informed by Superintendent Andrews that the special train will run from Kittrell's Depot both Wednesday and Tuesday mornings, from Warrenton Thursday and Friday. Coupon tickets admitting to the Fair Grounds will be attached to all tickets sold on the road. We learn that thousands on the line of the road will attend the Fair.

Tickets will not be sold before Monday afternoon, the 27th inst.

THE PREMIUM LIST.—The Executive Committee and the Supervisors finished last night the revision of the premum list of the late Fair, and the same will be placed in the hands of the printer this morning.

THE INDIAN SUMMER.—The Fair week was blest with a season of veritable, true, unadulterated Indian Summer. The days were warm and balmy, the atmosphere was filled with purple haze, and the hills seemed to sleep in the sunshine, while the forests were hourly arraying themselves in liveries of red and gold. Upon such evenings, in the olden time, the squaws bedecked themselves in finest apparel of skins, and beads and feathers; the warriors put on their paint and assembled around the council fires; the chiefs made addresses to the young, recounted the legends of their tribes, and told of perils by the fountain and the hill, in war and in the chase. Then the circle was formed beneath the primeval oak, whose dark green leaves were shaking with the soft night-winds of the Indian's Summer-time, and the corn dance was begun, amid music, song and revelry. And thus from eve to eve, until the storm-clouds broke up the gathering, these simple scenes of rude, yet warlike mirth, were renewed. It will be a season, therefore, forever hallowed by tradition, and a space in the American year which shall never be surrendered to aught save festivity; and could its recurrence be always simultaneous with our own great Fairs, would add such a charm to that Festival that it would grow from year to year in pleasure as well as in fame.

THURSDAY.....OCTOBER 23, 1873.

Awful Condition of Memphis.

To-morrow night, Hon. A. M. WADDELL will deliver a lecture at the Metropolitan Hall, in this city, for the benefit of death-stricken Memphis.

Our people have given liberally through their Churches and the Odd Fellows and Masonic Lodges, when specially appealed to in behalf of the yellow fever victims, but to-morrow night will be the first opportunity they have yet had of responding, in a general meeting, to the call of human suffering that comes to them in such plaintive and irresistible tones, from a desolate and agonized Southern city, now overshadowed by a death-dealing scourge.

We are indebted to a friend for two recent Memphis papers, containing harrowing accounts of the continued ravages of the plague, from which the following memoranda of facts have been gathered. Surely this calm recital will touch every heart in our community not made of adamant:

Late accounts received in this city by private individuals, show that up to the 15th of October, the fever had made such ravages that Memphis was one vast hospital. Of the 60,000 inhabitants it properly contains, but 8,000 were left within its borders, the rest having fled or gone to their last rest. Private statements relate that 400 children had been made orphans by the epidemics. The estimate of the public journalists places the number at one thousand, with probabilities of an addition of two hundred more.

The deaths from yellow fever average more than fifty a day in reality—the newspaper reports can only give the lists as obtained from physicians, and many die unreported. Dead bodies have been known to lie several days awaiting burial.

There are 300 nurses employed at $5 per diem, many charge as high as $10. The cities of Cincinnati and Chicago have sent on lately, the sum of $15,000 each, for several successive days. Thirty thousand dollars were subscribed and forwarded by one of these cities at one dash. The towns and villages in the State of Tennessee are all sending in stores of food, clothing and money—and even in the adjoining States a most liberal spirit is manifested to the sufferers—as appears in the public prints. But although the plague has in so short a time consummated its dread mission, it will be many months before the traces of its deadly touch will be obliterated. Of these 8,000 persons remaining in the city, most are those who depend on their daily labor for bread. The rich are absent—and all industries are consequently paralyzed therefore the poor must be fed and clothed from without or they starve. Now, for months to come Memphis will suffer in this way, and the rich will be slow to return. So that it behooves all Christian people, especially those of our own section, to take measures for the relief of both the sick, the orphan and the needy poor. In districts where our own people are cramped for means, they can possibly exert some influence among Northern friends with whom money is plenty; and where they are able to give, let them give small sums at stated intervals and let the benevolent Associations of Memphis know in advance that such is their intention. They must however, act speedily, or they will be too late to meet the pressing wants of the hour.

Reduction of the State Debt—Good Effects of Democratic Legislation.

Below we publish a full and accurate statement of the debt of North Carolina, for fiscal year ending on the 30th day of September, 1873. This statement can be relied on as authentic, as it was compiled from the official records of the Treasury Department, under the supervision of DONALD W. BAIN, Esq., Chief Clerk of that department.

As figures speak more loudly and more eloquently than words, we cannot add anything to the force of the argument in favor of Democratic rule presented in the tabular statement given below.

One of the most important questions that will come before the Legislature when it assembles next month, will be the arrangement and settlement of the indebtedness of the State, in a manner honorable to North Carolina and satisfactory to her creditors. This is a vexed and complicated question, and will require the highest financial ability and the ablest statesmanship on the part of the people's representatives. While the impoverished and embarrassed condition of the State must be taken into consideration, we must at all hazards preserve the unsullied reputation of North Carolina for integrity and honor. Repudiation of our honest debt must not be thought of—while the bonds tainted with fraud and collusion should not be recognized as binding either in law or morals. The State must make the best terms it can with her creditors—at the same time having due regard to the character of the obligation and the condition of her finances.

North Carolina is a great State and has unlimited undeveloped resources, which in time may be made available, under a policy of progress and enterprise. Our people are now poor, but there is a bright future opening before them, and we have had recent evidences of a spirit of activity and improvement which promises the most excellent results.

One of the greatest draw-backs against which we have had to contend is the mountain load of debt which carpet-bag legislation piled up in the reign of LITTLEFIELD and his co-conspirators. One of the duties devolving upon the Legislature is to separate the fraudulent from the honest debt—to winnow the chaff from the wheat, and, whatever amount is ascertained to be honestly due, to make provision for its adjustment in such a way as may be deemed alike prudent and honorable.

It will be observed from the official statement below, that the State debt has been reduced three hundred and fifty-three thousand dollars, during the previous year.

The second class was decreased two hundred and eighty-seven thousand dollars, by the return of special tax bonds issued in aid of the Chatham Railroad.

The third class was decreased ten thousand dollars.

The fourth class was decreased fifty-six thousand dollars, by the return of bonds to that amount issued for the purpose of buying a site for the Penitentiary.

The debt—principal and interest, is $38,018,969.85, classified in round numbers:

	JAN'Y 1st.	JULY.	APL. & OCTOBER.	TOTAL.

Memphis.

On Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, Hon. A. M. WADDELL will deliver his popular lecture at Metropolitan Hall, in this city, in aid of the Memphis sufferers. Price of Admission twenty-five cents.

Col. WADDELL is a pleasant and eloquent speaker, and his lecture is highly spoken of by those who have heard it.

Although the scourge is somewhat abating in Memphis, there is urgent need for more money to relieve the sufferers. Great destitution still prevails. Thousands of helpless children who have been orphaned by the plague are crying for bread.

There has been no public meeting of our citizens to help Memphis, but many have given through the Churches and benevolent orders. But the cry comes for more contributions still.

Metropolitan Hall should be filled to overflowing on Friday evening. Come out, people of Raleigh, and give your mite to help your unfortunate fellow-creatures, as well as to listen to an instructive and interesting lecture.

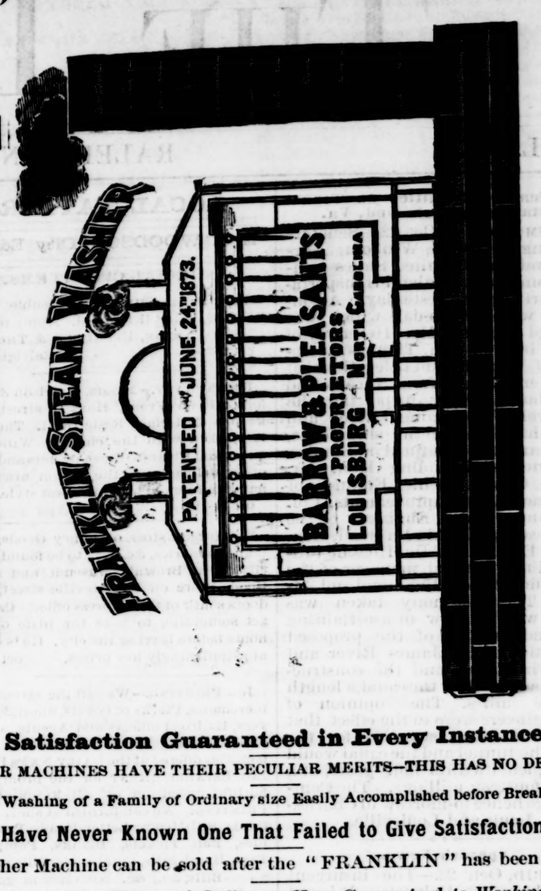
$10 GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE. $10



THE VERY LATEST IMPROVEMENT.
PATENTED JUNE 24TH, 1873.

Satisfaction Guaranteed in Every Instance.
OTHER MACHINES HAVE THEIR PECULIAR MERITS—THIS HAS NO DEFECT.
The Washing of a Family of Ordinary size Easily Accomplished before Breakfast!
Have Never Known One That Failed to Give Satisfaction!
No other Machine can be sold after the "FRANKLIN" has been Tried.
From One to Two Thousand Dollars a Year Guaranteed to Working Men!
Every County Sold in Which it has been Introduced.
WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD TO COMPETE WITH IT!!!

The inventor of the "FRANKLIN STEAM WASHER" was owner of the right to manufacture the "Improved" Woman's Friend in certain territory. While manufacturing these machines, and watching attentively their action and the manner in which they operated, and the results, he discovered certain prominent defects therein. He spent ten months in the study of the subject of finding remedies for these defects. He has at last succeeded—and as the result of his investigation and study, he offers to the public the "FRANKLIN STEAM WASHER," which is by far the best Washing Machine ever patented. We claim as an evidence of its merit that "LETTERS PATENT" were granted over all others.

It will wash anything from a Lace Collar to a Bed Blanket. It will cleanse the clothing without tearing and more thoroughly than can possibly be done by hand labor or the use of the rubbing board. With one-fourth of the labor four times as much can be done in the same length of time as can be done by hand. We could publish columns of certificates of its worth from those who have used it, but for the present we prefer the WASHER to speak for itself. We give a few below:

Messrs, BARROW & PLEASANTS, LOUISBURG, September 27th, 1873.
GENTLEMEN:—Mrs. Davis has tried the "FRANKLIN STEAM WASHER" and instructs me to say, in reply to your enquiry, that she is well pleased with it, and believes it to be all that you claim for it as a labor saving Machine. It does its work well and diminishes, by more than half, the labor of washing. She cheerfully recommends it.
JOSEPH J. DAVIS.

Messrs. BARROW & PLEASANTS, LOUISBURG, September 10th, 1873.
GENTLEMEN:—Before purchasing your Steam Washer, I paid four dollars per month for our family washing; now without any additional help, I have the washing done at home and pay fifty cents a week to have the ironing done. In this way I save $2 per month, and my clothes are much whiter, and I am satisfied, will last much longer than when washed by rubbing or the use of a board. It is all that you recommend it to be.
Very respectfully,
Mrs. C. M. COOKE.

Messrs. BARROW & PLEASANTS, LOUISBURG, September 11th, 1873.
GENTLEMEN:—I am using your Steam Washer, and it proves a success and I take pleasure in recommending it to the public, and testify to its being all that you represent it to be.
Very respectfully,
Mrs. P. B. HAWKINS.

Messrs. BARROW & PLEASANTS, LOUISBURG, September 8th, 1873.
GENTLEMEN:—I have been using your Franklin Steam Washer for some time and can safely say is far the best I ever saw. I cannot do without it. Mrs. A. W. WILSON.

Messrs. BARROW & PLEASANTS, FRANKLINTON, September 9th, 1873.
SIRS—Mrs. Gibbons has been using your "Franklin Steam Washer" for two weeks and pronounces it a grand success.
Rev. H. H. GIBBONS.

Messrs. BARROW & PLEASANTS, LOUISBURG, August 4th, 1873.
GENTLEMEN:—I take pleasure in recommending your "Steam Washer." I acknowledge myself to have been incredulous with regard to yours, after having tested several others that had been as highly recommended to me; but the inconvenience to a large family, of not being able to get a good washer, regularly, induced me to give yours a trial. I am gratified to pronounce it a perfect success. I used it according to directions, and did two week's washing in two hours, nor did I give the first RUB. Whiter or more nicely washed clothes, I have never had. It only needs a trial to convince.
Respectfully, Mrs. W. H. FULMAN.

OURSELVES AS OTHERS SEE US:

"We take pleasure in saying that the "Franklin Steam Washer" is all that its proprietors claim it—a complete success. We hazard nothing in saying that nothing has ever been put upon the market that meets with such universal favor. We are yet to hear of the first one that does not give entire satisfaction.—Louisburg Courier.

"It is meeting with universal and unprecedented favor among domestic circles."—Rocky Mount Mail.

"Messrs. Barrow and Pleasants constitute one of the strongest and most reliable firms in Louisburg, and from what we have heard of the "Franklin Steam Washer" and the high character of the parties controling it, we have no doubt but that it is all that they represent it to be."—Biblical Recorder.

"The patentees claim for the "Franklin Steam Washer" a superiority over all others, and from the description we have had of its workings, we believe its claims are well founded."—Christian Advocate.

"We have known Messrs. Barrow and Pleasants from "our youth up," and know they would not recommend anything unworthy of patronrge. They are leading merchants in Louisburg."—Asheville Citizen.

We have acquired by purchase of the Patentee, Mr. S. W. Bartholomew, the sole right to manufacture and to sell the right to manufacture the "Franklin Steam Washer" within the United States and Territories.

We now offer the "Franklin Steam Washer" to the American people with full confidence that it will do all that we claim for it, and in order to introduce it as rapidly as possible, we are offering great inducements to working men who want to make money; we will sell State or County rights on very reasonable terms; for instance, we will sell the right to a county with ten thousand inhabitants for one hundred dollars. Within twelve months, if properly managed, the person can sell from three to five hundred Washers, at a profit of five dollars each, and this right will be worth more at the expiration of that time than it was at first, from the fact that it has been introduced and will sell in almost every family.

To parties wishing to buy State or county rights, we will, send, on receipt of five dollars, just one-half of the retail price, the "Franklin Steam Washer" complete, with instructions how to use, &c.; and after satisfying themselves that it is what we recommend it to be, they can correspond with us in regard to territory wanted, our terms, &c. We desire a good reliable General Agent in every State in the Union, and we invite correspondence with workingmen who would like to make money. None need apply who cannot furnish satisfactory evidence of their integrity and reliability.

Any tinner can make the "Washer," or parties buying county rights, can obtain them through us at cost.

All persons are warned against manufacturing or selling the "Franklin Steam Washer" without authority from us. Any person infringing upon our rights in this matter will be prosecuted.

☞ Our Mr. PLEASANTS will have rooms at the Yarborough House during Fair week and will give any information desired.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

We are well acquainted with Messrs. Barrow & Pleasants; as merchants they are doing a leading Business in their town. They are men of strict integrity and in every way reliable and responsible. They do what they engage to do.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BILLOUS.—If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, despondent, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly in morning, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal. It effects perfect cures, leaving the patient strengthened and healthy. Sold by all first-class druggists.

How unnecessary the anguish that persons undergo from rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, toothache and earache. We say unnecessary because the application of Mexican Mustang Liniment to the affected part, or a few drops of it in the cavity of a tooth, affords instantaneous, and what is better, permanent relief. For cuts wounds, bruises, swellings, and all injuries or diseases which require treatment externally, this liniment is everywhere regarded as the most potent and reliable healing agent in existence. For all external injuries or ailments of horses and cattle, it is infallible.

His Honor, HENRY POTTER, late Judge of the United States Court for the District of North Carolina, gave the following as his opinion of Beckwith's Pills:

"For some ten or twelve years past I have been in the habit of using DR. BECKWITH'S ANTI-DYSPEPTIC PILLS in my family, and consider them so valuable a domestic medicine, that I never suffer my stock to be exhausted. I have used them with good effect in dyspeptic cases, under various modifications, and have found them efficacious in relieving from sick Headache, and from all the usual symptoms of functional derangements of the viscera. As an apperient, they are excellent. I have long had the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance with the inventor of these Pills. He is a gentleman of talents, integrity and worth, and he ranks high in the science of medicine and the healing art.
H. POTTER."

THE DAILY NEWS.

THURSDAY.....OCTOBER 23, 1873.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Charlotte is counting on a big Fair.

The roads in Catawba are in a bad condition.

The Charlotte Glee Club is about to re-organize.

Sneak thieves are enterprising in Wilmington.

There was a hard blow on Wrightsville Sound on Sunday night.

Charlotte has increased the wages of her policemen $10 per month.

The Great Eastern Circus took in $8,000 in Wadesboro on Saturday.

Some of the Wilmington saloonists are going to get their oysters from Morehead City.

It is estimated that the cotton crop in Rutherford county will be worth from $100,000 to $150,000.

Another large plug factory is to be opened in Hillsboro, and the workhouse system is to be put on a better footing.

The temperance folks of Charlotte have gone into the dramatic business, that is they produce on the stage temperance dramas.

Says the Wilmington Journal: "The Newbern Times manages to make a big thing out of the trouble at Lumberton last Thursday night. It says that three of the troupe and three of the "natives" were killed and one other mortally wounded. They must be a blood thirsty people down in Newbern."

Says the Pee Dee Herald (Wadesboro):

The negro miles Hinson, who shot and killed Eli Bennett a short time ago, is now lying in the jail at this place, awaiting trial. He hails from South Carolina, and is said to be a notorious rascal. There is a reward of $200 for his apprehension, he having broken open the store of a Mr. Reed at Cheraw. He was lodged in Chesterfield jail, from which he escaped by knocking down the jailer. He goes by the name of Miles Hinson, Mils Washington, and Daniel M'Cloud.

The Charlotte Observer says: "In one of the healthiest towns of North Carolina, lives an interesting family, consisting of a father, mother and six little children. The mother is lying at the point of death with a malignant type of fever, and five of the children are down with it; and their lives are almost despaired of. Three months ago the whole family were in the enjoyment of perfect health. What we wish to direct the attention of our readers to is the strange cause of the fever which has seized upon the family, and thus to caution the public. The fever was caused by the filling up of an old well on the premises, with leaves, other vegetable matter and dirt, which tainted the atmosphere with a poisonous miasma."

Says the Wilmington Star of the 21st inst:

We could learn nothing new, yesterday, in reference to the killing of Mr. B. F. Smith at Lumberton on Thursday night last, with the exception that the three colored men who were alluded to in our last as having been detained as witnesses, were brought down on the train to Abbottsburg, yesterday, under the charge of Deputy Sheriff Wilson, from whence they were to proceed to Whiteville for the alleged purpose of identifying the murderer. Taking into consideration the talks and excitement which the crime has evoked through the section the circus has traversed since its occurrence, it would be something extraordinary to find the murderer with the company now.

THE LATEST 'AMERICAN ABROAD.' A cheeky individual announcing himself as Colonel William Hurlbert, a member of President Grant's military staff, and dressing in the full uniform of a United States army officer, has been swindling some of the smaller potentates of Germany in rather a novel manner lately. Armed with the most unexceptionable credentials, he appeared in several of the smaller capital cities, where he had little difficulty in obtaining access to the petty courts. With him this self-styled Colonel had a curious subscription-list, which, before taking leave of his new-made eminent acquaintances, he submitted to them. This subscription list was for contributions for a gigantic monument at Washington in honor of the soldiers killed in the late civil war. Colonel Hurlbert stated that only rulers of States and military and civil officers of the highest rank were to take part in this grand enterprise, and in opening his list he proudly pointed to the names of President Grant, Queen Victoria, the Emperor William, Marshal McMahon, Bismarck, and other illustrious personages who had each subscribed liberally. For some time the Colonel's little game worked beautifully, and he succeeded in obtaining considerable sums of money, but at last he came to Dessau, in the duchy of Anhalt, where the reigning duke and his people proved to be a little sharper than previous victims. Their suspicions being aroused, after a brief and satisfactory correspondence with Mr. Bancroft in Berlin, they had Hurlbert arrested on the charge of swindling, and he will now have to suffer for his smart but wayward career. His real name seems to be Edward Beatty, and though an Irishman by birth, he has long lived in the western States.

A New Sugar Production.

An invention which threatens, if successful, to interfere greatly with commerce, and a great Southern production, is reported from Paris. This new discovery is a method of making sugar by uniting into a compound its constituent atoms of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. The inventor, M. Jouglet, says that the cost of production will be fifty cents per hundred weight, and he has already so far succeeded in establishing the utility of his invention that a company of manufacturers have been persuaded to purchase it from him for the comparatively moderate sum of $230,000. What the sugar planters and refiners will do if this discovery turns out to be as important as it promises remains to be seen; but there is no doubt that if it is only partially successful strange developments may be expected. The invention is said to be very simple and one easily explained, and endless quantities of saccharine substance can, it is claimed, be manufactured by this new process in so short a time and at so small a cost as to preclude the possibility of competition.

Col. Thomas M. Holt.

The New York South, of the 11th inst., under this caption, thus speaks of the President of the North Carolina State Agricultural Society:

"Col. Thomas M. Holt, President of the N. C. Agricultural Society, was born in Alamance county, and is now between forty-five and fifty years of age. In early years he received the advantages of a good education, which with his energetic and vigorous business qualifications, has enabled him to fill many positions of trust. Besides occupying the position of President of the N. C. Agricultural Society, he is President of the N. C. Railroad, and principal owner and director of the Haw River Mills, situated in Alamance county.

"The following flattering reference to Mr. Holt was recently made by a newspaper correspondent: "Situated on the Haw River, in the famous county of Alamance, are the cotton factory and flouring mills of Holt & Moore, the most flourishing, profitable and enterprising establishment of this kind in North Carolina. The principal director and owner of this valuable property is Thomas M. Holt, a man, none the less remarkable for his reticence and retiring disposition from an outward sense and view, than for his vigorous and energetic business qualifications. Mr. Holt is one of the men of the times, and fully equal to the demand of the hour. A self-made man. No one person in the State enjoys a greater portion of the confidence of the people than he, especially from a business point of view. Last year when the Hon. Wm. A. Smith resigned the presidency of the North Carolina Railroad, the Company and Directors, at their first meeting, unanimously elected Mr. Holt to fill the vacancy. A majority of the directory were of a different political school from Mr. Holt, but discarding all political feeling, as they did, notwithstanding Mr. Holt's democratic proclivities, he was unanimously elected. His entire fitness for the position, his general reputation and known business qualities, mark him as the man for the responsible position. Since his election the road has, as under his predecessor, enjoyed good fortune, and is destined for much in the future. As president of the road he gives the stockholders and the general public entire satisfaction, and in return he has been re-elected to the same position without the least murmur of opposition. But Mr. Holt is not only interested in manufacturing and railroad matters; Agriculture comes in for a large share of his time, labor and effort."

"Last year he was elected president of the State Agricultural Society, and under the vigorous management the ensuing fair promises to distance anything of the kind that has been held before. For this prospective success the public and every one interested will have to thank Col. Holt and his able secretary, Capt. R. T. Fulghum. Mr. Holt, does not meddle with politics; he confines himself strictly to business. Of large wealth—inherited and self-earned—fond of labor, a student in what is for the good of all—especially for those who labor for him or the great corporation of which he is at the head—none the less progressive man—probably he has shown as much zeal and enterprise, from a commercial point of view, as any man in the country. Certain it is that no one is doing more to practically develop the resources of his State than he. His mills at Haw river are monuments of industry and indefatigable labor and enterprise. The Fair Grounds at Raleigh are evidences of his liberality, thrift and general interest in the welfare of the old commonwealth. His election twice as President of the North Carolina Railroad, is a testimony from the owners of that corporation that his remarkable common sense, administrative powers and abilities, his honesty and integrity, are duly appreciated by an enlightened people, who are not insensible to the importance of having the proper men in the proper place."

Tom Evans, who was arrested in Hillsboro some time since for a deadly assault upon Gaston Workman, has been released on $250 bail, the condition of the wounded man being such as to justify it.

Women as Sailors.

Cannot women be sailors as well as soldiers? They have made the attempt at all events. Early in the reign of George III., Hannah Whitney, an Irish women, served for five years in the royal navy, and did not reveal the secret until she re-entered what may be called private life. A few years after this, a young Yorkshire woman came up from Hull to London, in search of her lover; he had enlisted on the man-of-war "Oxford" at Chatham, and she did the same, putting on sailor's clothes, and assuming the name of Charles Waddell. Her faithless swain deserted, and she attempted to desert likewise. This brought on detection; and the officers kindly gave the poor girl a little money and dismissed her. The newspapers, in 1872, told of one Mrs. Cola, of Poplar, who served on board a man-of-war as a sailor, and then, on having a bit of property left to her, resumed her feminine position, and took a public house. Early in the present century, a country girl, aged fifteen, left her home, put on boy's clothes, and offered for service on board a South Sea whaler. Being refused, she apprenticed herself to a waterman, and plied her avocation deftly. It was not until she had been upset and nearly drowned, in rowing out to "The Sir Hyde Parker," West Indiaman, that she ceased to be a "jolly young waterman," and became a domestic servant in proper femininity of apparel. There was a girl named Rebecca Ann Johnstone, who knew what it was to have a cruel father or uncle (it is not clear which.) He dressed her as a boy when she was thirteen, and apprenticed her to a collier ship. She served four years, and then ended her sea life, after receiving a severe beating from the mate for not getting up sufficiently early. Another girl aged fourteen, named Elizabeth Bowden, being left an orphan, came from a village in Cornwall, in 1807, to Truro, in search of employment. Destitute and unsuccessful, she went to Falmouth, put on boy's clothes, enlisted as a boy on board H. M. S. "Hazard," and did good service afloat as well as below for several weeks; after which the poor young thing, by the kindness of the chief officers, was enabled to resume her proper attire and avocations. One more instance: In 1815, when H. M. S. "Queen Charlotte," one hundred guns was paid off, an African woman was found among the crew, who had served eleven years under the name of William Brown. She had become an able seaman, and captain of the fore-top, she had all the traits of a saitor, and no one had suspected her secret, which turned out to be a cruel husband, to escape from whom she had taken to this hard and unfeminine mode of life.

Thus it is that, in most cases where women have become soldiers or sailors, husbands or lovers have generally had something to do in supplying a motive. Why she did it is not narrated; but the gossiping chronicles which tell about the centenarians speak of one Mary Hall, who was sexton of Bishop's Hill, York, and who lived to the age of one hundred and five. There was a peddler, in 1793, who was taken ill at an ale house in Worcester, and shortly before dying told his (her) story. She had been concerned in the Gordon Riots in '80; and fearing capture and punishment, had put on man's dress, and traveled the country as a peddler for thirteen years,—London Times.

Columbus, Ga., boasts of a young man who is said to receive a salary of $1,200 and saves $ 100 per annum, and has saved since the war some $7,000. He boards at the free lunch counter and sleeps on the lee side of a fence.

A Columbus (Ga.) negro who had fallen into a well was rescued by another, who succeded by hitching a rope around his neck. The unfortunate man came about as near being hanged as drowned.

The Emperor of Russia has appointed his future son-in-law, the Duke of Edinburgh, commander of the second battalion of marines of the Black Sea fleet.

A heavy storm set in at the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs on Monday morning. The storm seemed to be general in the West.
